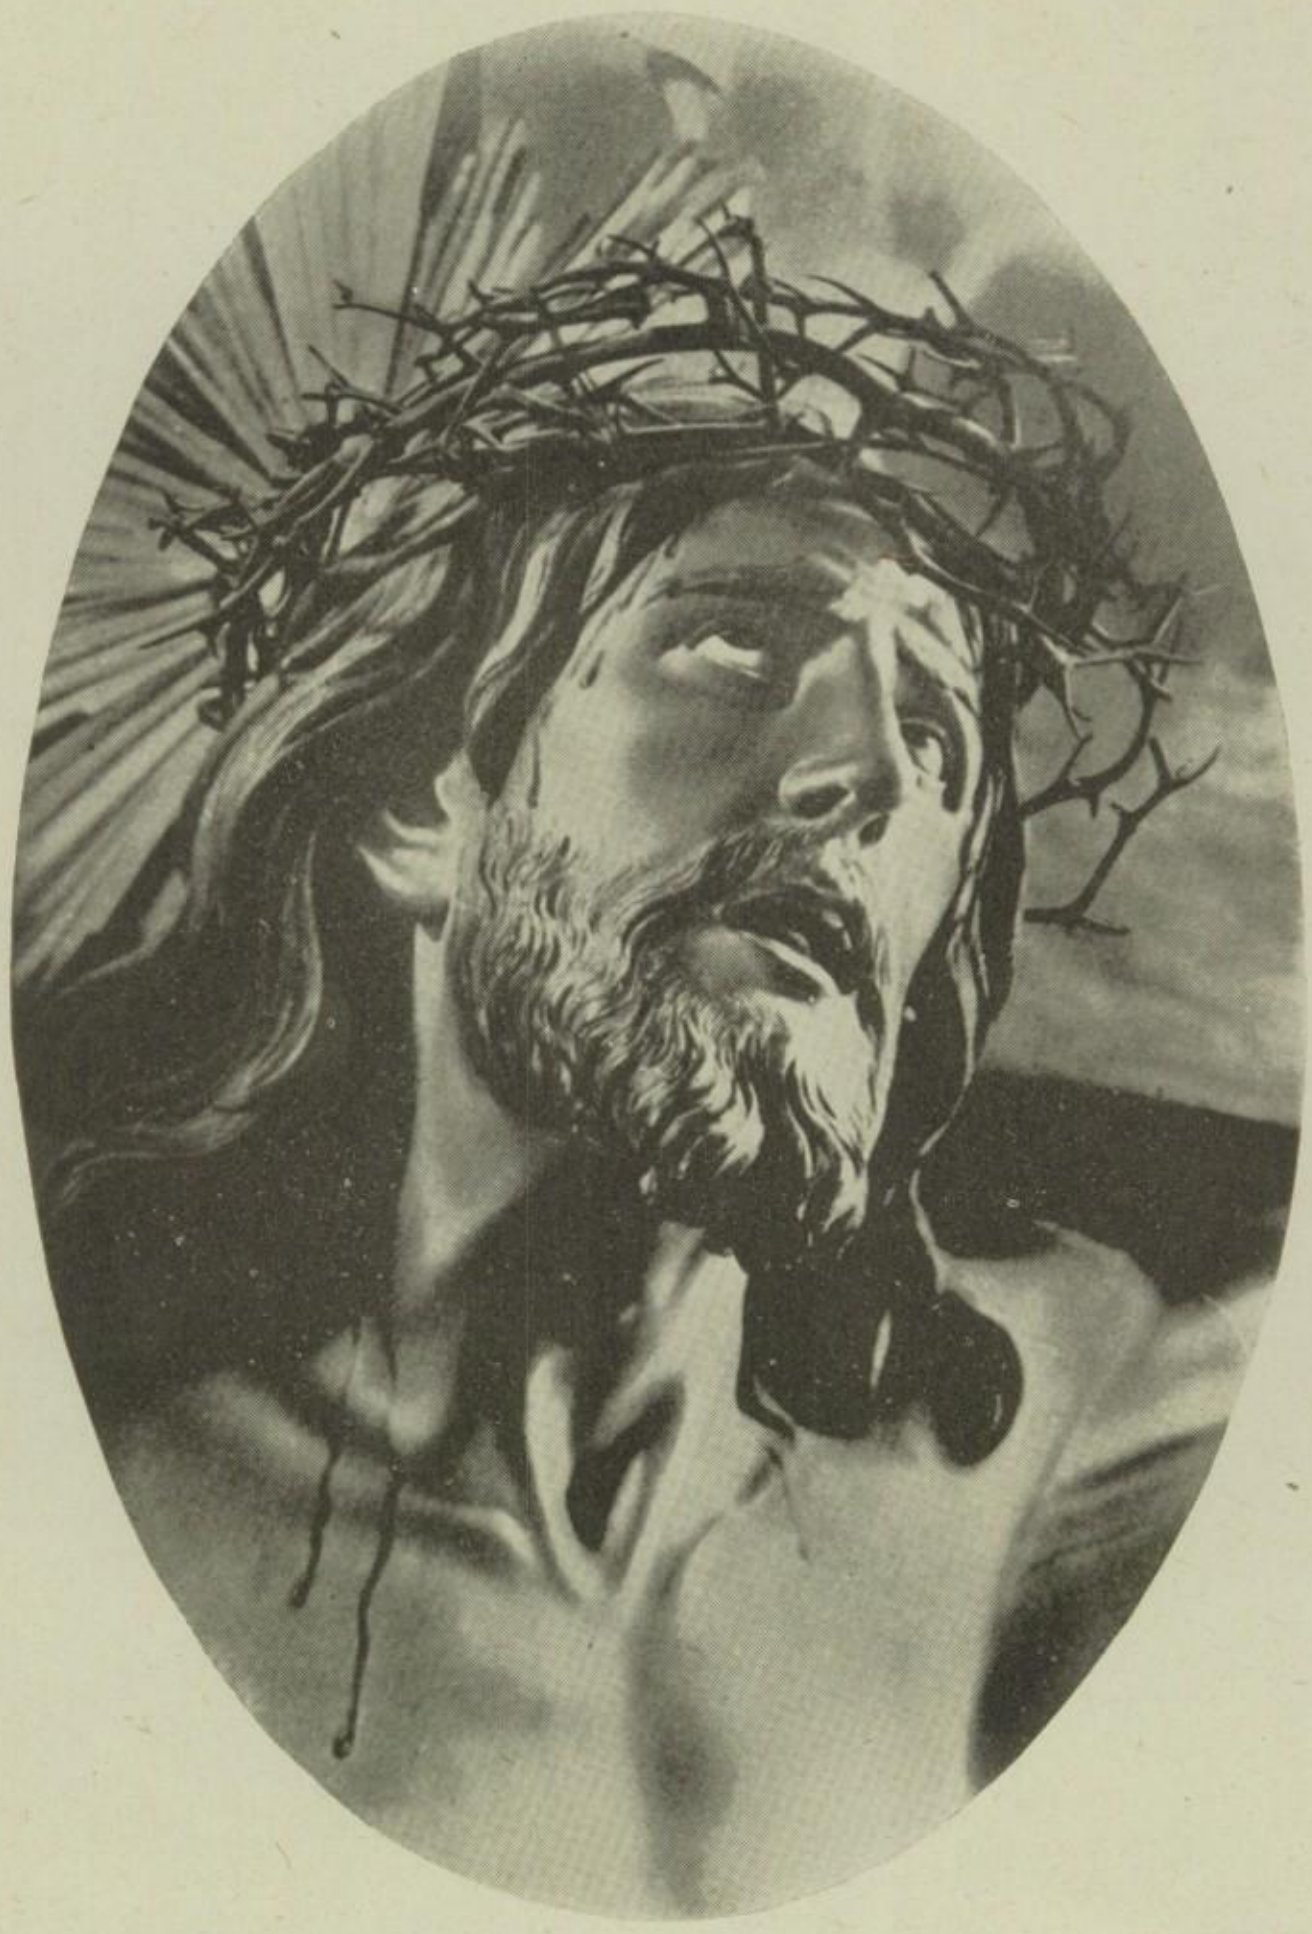
The Master Builder



ATTEND and see
The Christ in sculptured agony.
There fix thy filmed glance
Upon the rubics of the nails and lance.

Or, where the Scourges bit
There read
The scarlet scriptures writ
To all who bleed.

For here, unhampered by the lettered page,
The broken serf may read as rightly as the sage
And learn to live, and manfully to mix
His cup with aloes from the crucifix.

FOREWORD

FOR twenty-five years, class after class at Central Catholic High has compiled and edited the school annual—the Centripetal.

Each succeeding class made a determined effort to record accurately the events which constituted its senior year at Central. This soon evolved into a sort of competitive spirit.

When the time to begin work on the 1944-45 publication arrived, we accepted the unwritten "challenge" of the class of '44 and, with sharpened pencils and wits, "dug in."

We have endeavored to present, by word and picture, Central's "growth." The informal photographs depict typical scenes which characterize the spirit of Catholicism and Americanism prevailing in her halls, which all Centralites are proud of and contribute to. May each Centralite continue to improve the spirit and put Central Catholic High School on the pinnacle of superiority where it belongs.

As our final thought, we, of the class of '45, express the sincerest hope that the next Centripetal will be published in a world at peace.

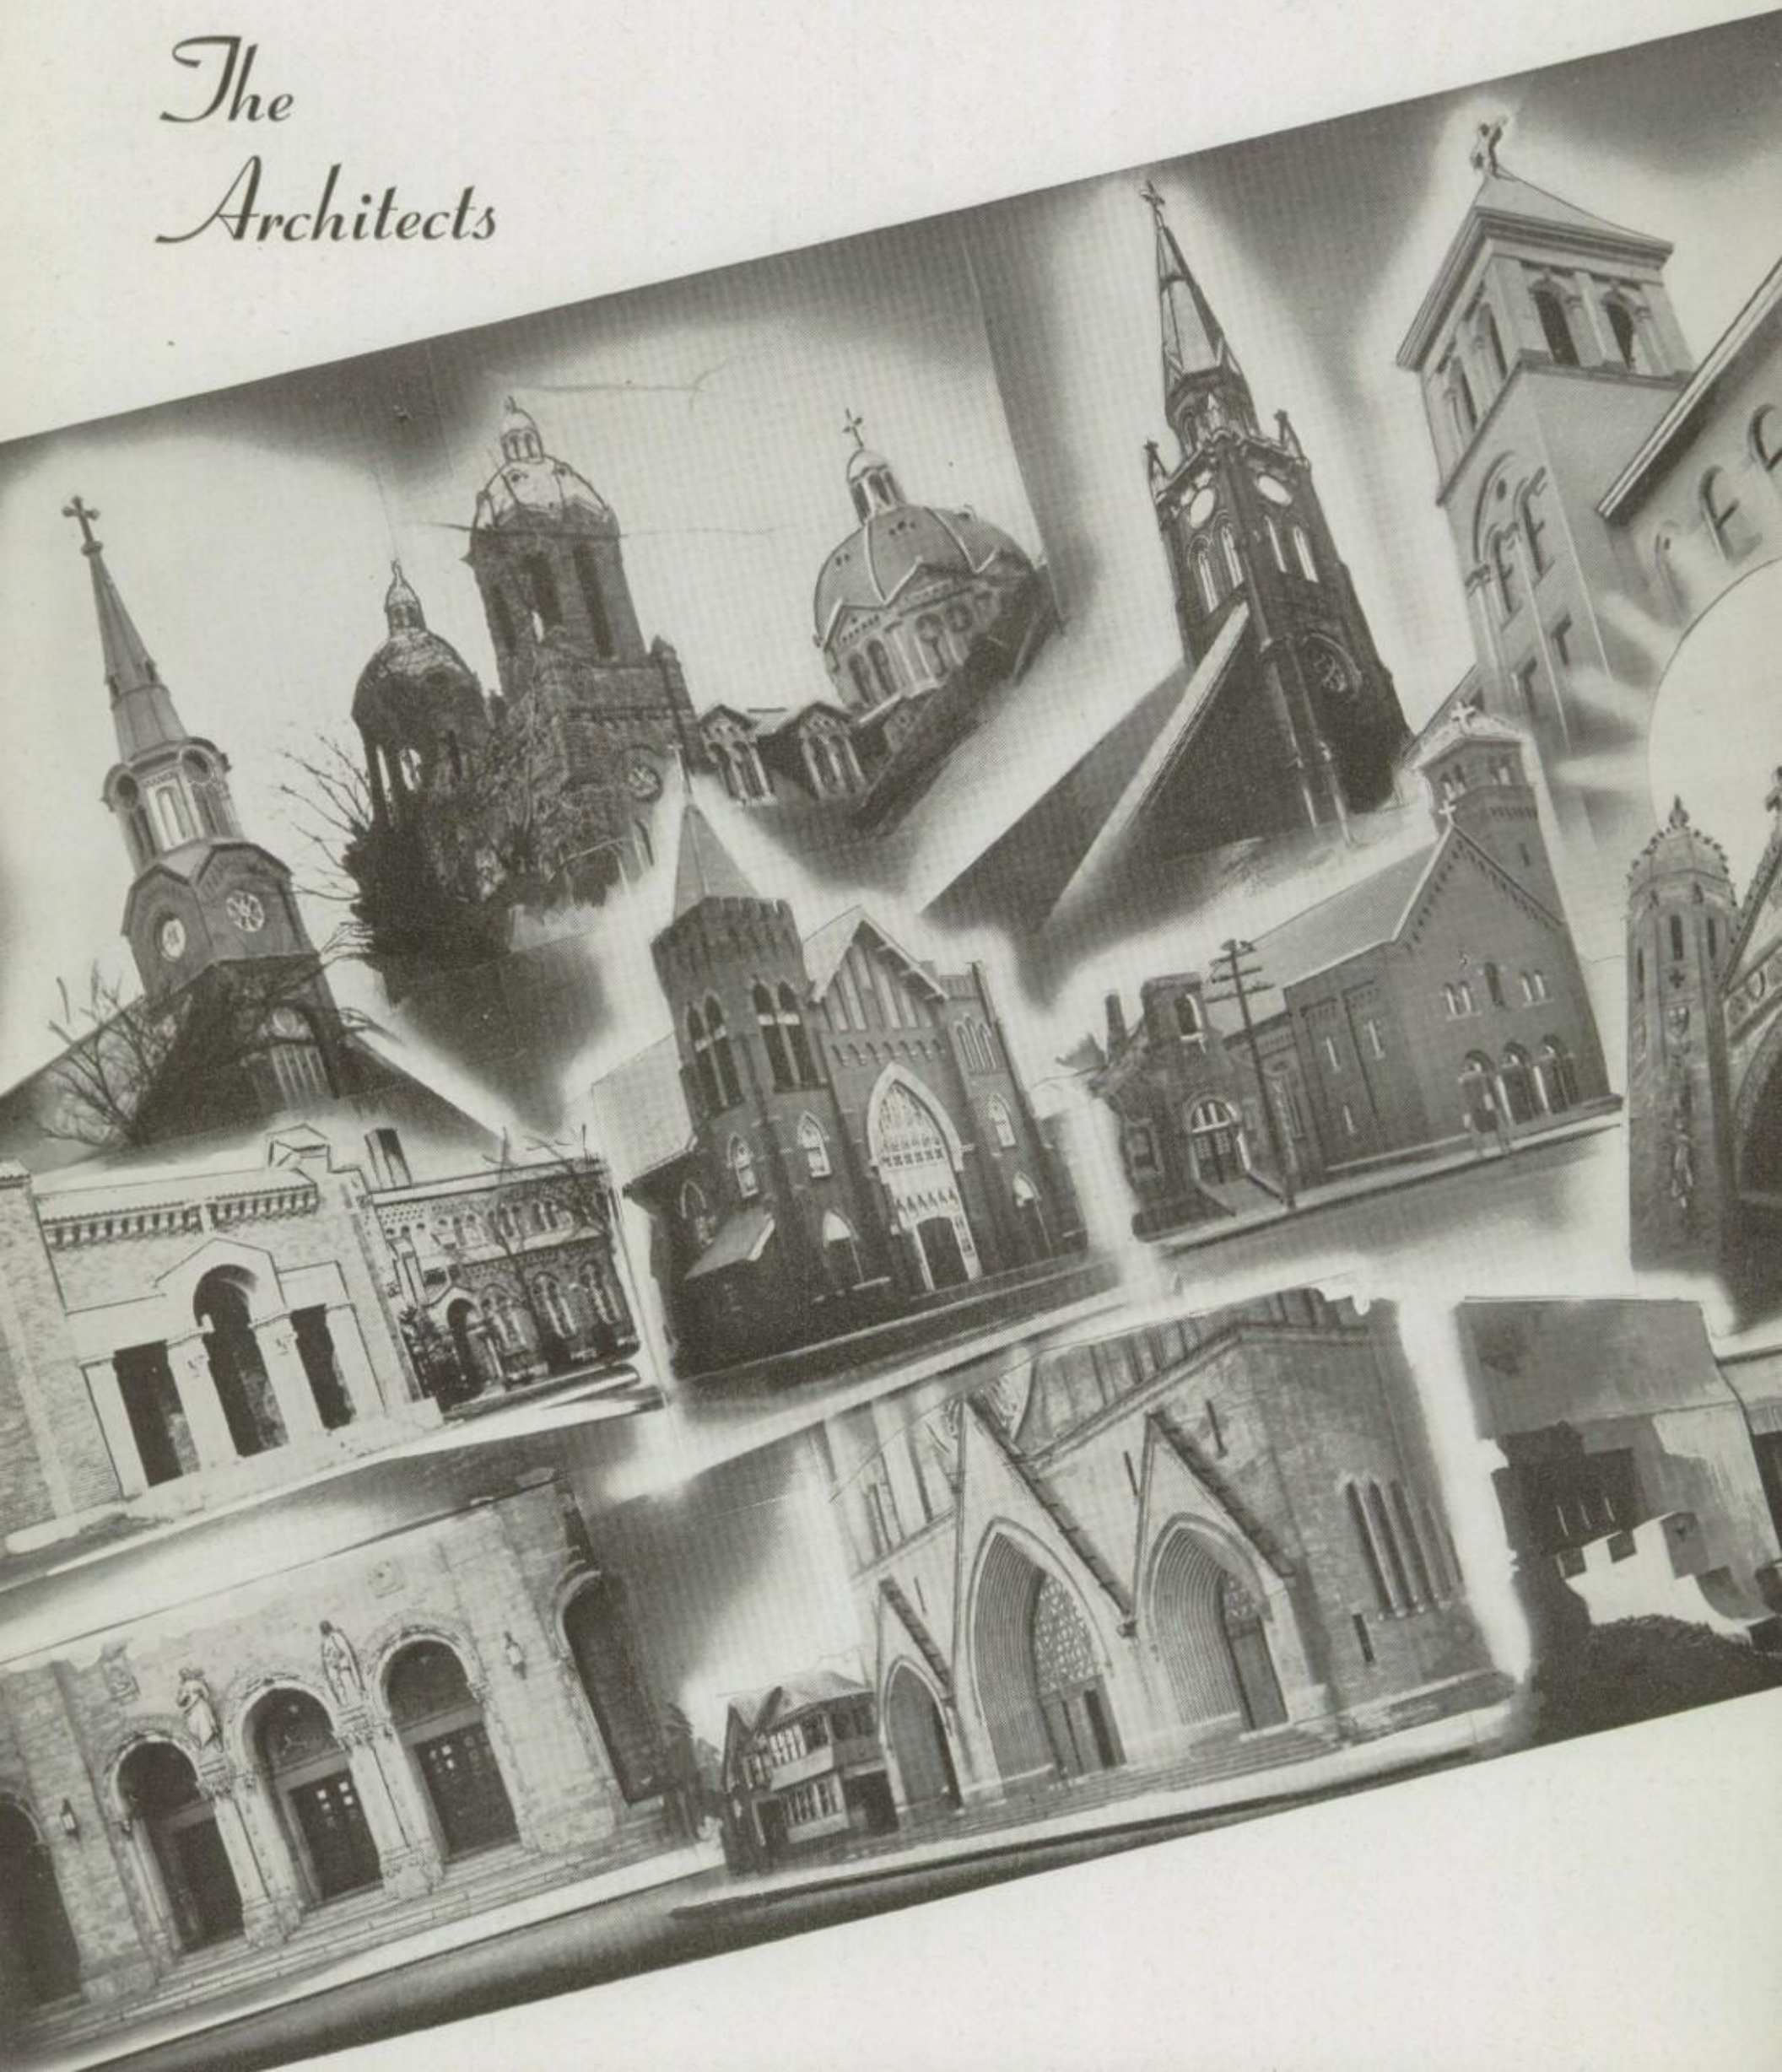
The Architects



Twenty-five years ago a number of "architects" gave birth to and nurtured the idea of a Catholic co-educational high school in Toledo. Swiftly putting their plan into action, they set down a preliminary sketch, the Old Medical Building on the corner of Page and Cherry Streets.

In 1928 they were able to submit a tentative blueprint. During those years which preceded the completion of this drawing, they deftly added stroke after stroke to the plan with their "drawing pencil" of spiritual and financial aid. Today they are applying the final touches to their masterpiece in order that the plea of the bishops, "Every Catholic student in a Catholic school", might be fulfilled.

We, the seniors, owe these craftsmen an additional debt of gratitude for our primary education, the firm foundation they have designed to aid in our quest of higher learning.

Therefore, it is only fitting and proper that we dedicate this, the Silver Jubilee Issue of the Centripetal, to the architects of Central and of our characters—our PARISHES.

THE MOST REVEREND KARL J. ALTER, D.D., LL.D.
Bishop of Toledo

Our most Reverend Bishop, in his work to promote Catholic Education, has done so much for Central, that we the students find ourselves wholly incompetent to express our devotion and gratitude to him.

THE REVEREND JOHN L. HARRINGTON, A.M., S.T.B.
Principal

In 1941, as we began our high school life, Father Harrington was made principal of Central. During these four years a strong bond of love and friendship has been firmly cemented between this friend and the class of '45.

The Builders

THE REVEREND JOSEPH D. SHENK, A.M., B.S.E.
Assistant Principal

In all problems confronting a student, Father Shenk has shown an incomparable understanding. This outstanding faculty has endeared him to all who have had the pleasure of knowing him and his valuable advice will be kept forever in their hearts.

The above picture represents the Board of Fiscal Control in session. If the members look puzzled it's probably because they have the following list of nerve testing problems to solve:

1. Balance the year's budget for Central.
2. Endorse the expenditures for the school.
3. Examine and confirm the financial reports.
4. Approve salaries for the school term.
5. Plan the task of eliminating the school debt.

and even earlier, by our own parents, is being "followed through" in Central's religion classes.

The leaning tower of Pisa is an excellent example of the results of weak groundwork. Applying this principle to religious education one will discover that a firm religious foundation, obtained in school, insures a stable base in future trials.

Can you imagine what a building without a cornerstone would look like? Rather strange wouldn't it? Such an edifice would be considered an unfinished project.

Thus a student who has received no religious training has an incomplete character. In such an education a great factor is missing which cannot be substituted by any other.

In Central, the members of the faculty endeavor to prepare each student for his future life in a world filled with temptation. How well each survives is a test of the durability of the "cornerstone" placed in his character.

An edifice without a frame could never be, and one with a weak frame is as good as none.

So we see that Central, with all its fields of learning and social achievements would be futile if its skeleton was not stable. And no skeleton could be stronger than a spiritual bond embracing the entire school.

The portal, Latin, which leads to "our house", is open wide for all to enter. Latin is the basis of other languages and is used for technical terms and standard names in the various sciences. So it also opens wide, as a portal, a pathway to easier understanding in a number of fields.

During the course of the study of Latin, the students translate "Julius Caesar" and other classics. Among the benefits derived from this subject is the fine training of the mind which continues long after school is over.

A house is usually judged to be suitable or discordant by its lobby or entrance hall. Surely then, "our house" will be favorably received because its lobby is Spanish, one of the most picturesque and romantic languages of all.

The purpose of this subject is not only to teach the students the Spanish language but also to acquaint them with the culture and the customs of the Spanish people.

Leading from the lobby to the staircase of "our house" is the spacious German corridor. Through the hallway great progress in the field of science has been made. The study of the German language helps the students to increase their possibilities of acquiring this knowledge.

In spite of our present war with Germany, no one underestimates the value of the study of the language. Consequently, the number of students taking this subject has not decreased.

Before we ascend to the Hall of Fame we must take, the not always easy, but the ever worthwhile stairway—the Library. Ten thousand, nine hundred twenty steps (volumes) of knowledge form this flight. For school assignments, for research work, and also for enjoyment, these stairs provide for thousands the help needed as they travel onward.

Sister Mary Anthony, O.S.U., Sister Mary David, O.S.U., and Sister Mary Evangeline, O.S.F., with the aid of the girls of the Library Club, direct the traffic of students and books.

The Art Gallery

The Art Galleries of "this House" depict the work of the boys and girls "laboring" therein.

In the girls' alcove, works in poster sketching, color theory, free hand drawing, oil painting, etching, lettering, metal work, liturgical design, needle work, dress design and clay modeling, taught by Sister Mary Hilda, S.N.D., are on prominent display. The stage settings, which were used in the play and operetta staging, are also a product of this nook.

The Glee Club

In the first section of the Music Wing we find the Glee Club "laborers". Here time is spent in the development of a singing voice and in the acquiring of a deep appreciation for music. This knowledge makes possible the presentation of the annual musical comedy.

Under the able direction of Mr. Sainton, director, and Sister M. Cecelia, O.S.F., moderator, this wing of "the house" gave an outstanding performance this year in the presentation of "Robin Hood".

Sister Cecelia and Mr. Sainton discuss the operetta "Robin Hood".

As we stroll through we note five first violins, eight second violins, two bass violins, three cellos, two clarinets, two trumpets, two trombones, three drums, and one piano. We learn that not only the music for the assemblies but also the score for the spring operetta is produced by this corner of the "wing".

The Band

The third niche of this room is occupied by the Band. Fifty musicians, attired in scarlet and gray, work in this section. Many school assemblies and a number of civic parades have been enlivened this year by the musical talent trained here. Every football game witnessed the neat formation of these "laborers" as they performed under the command of the "twirling wands" of drum majors, James Nally and Robert Rukowsky.

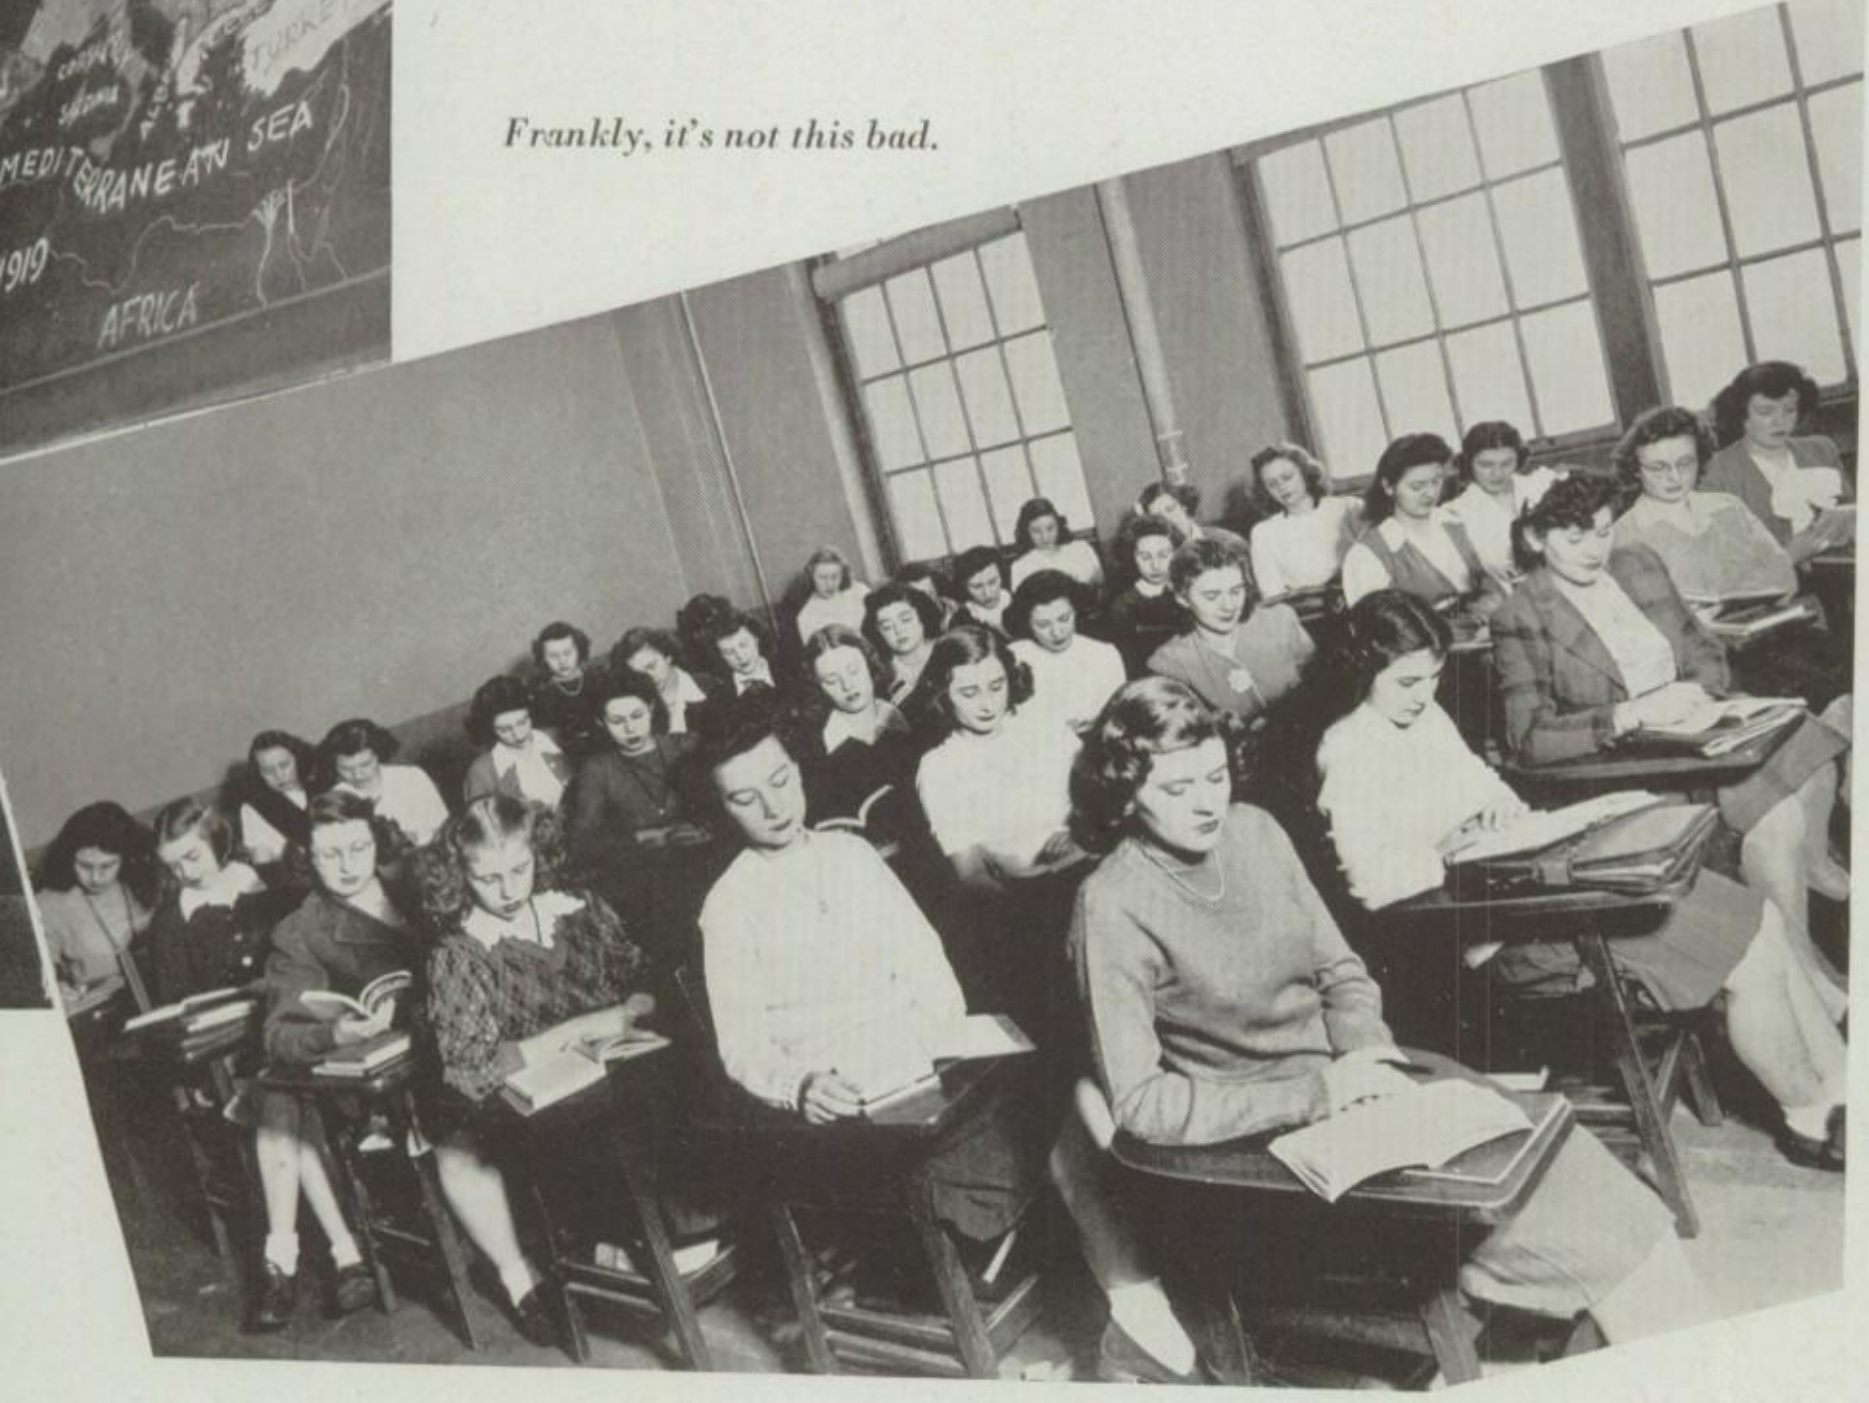
Down the "hall of fame" we travel, by means of the history classes. Past scenes of progress and depressing results of war are brought to life again, as ancient and modern history is assimilated. Kings, conquerors, powerful nations, and trampled peoples march in thrilling procession. Living in history, the study of the past facts seem sometimes unbearably dull. But it is only by knowing what preceded the events of the present that the significance of the past can be fully realized.

Frankly, it's not this bad.



Five interesting "maps".

In this hall the history of the American nation, its beginnings as well as the mechanics of its democratic form of government, its people and their mode of life, are proudly traced. The bold principles and compromises which made possible the "Pledge of Allegiance" are recorded on its walls.

Making a clean slate.

Mathematics is, during these troublesome days of world aggression, one of the most "uplifting" subjects a student can undertake. During this war period and in the post-war era, Math is and will be on the list of basic requirements for technical work.

An important lift in promoting Math is the Al-Geo-Trig, Central's Math paper, the product of the above staff.

GENERAL SCIENCE

Moving down Science Hall we approach the General Science room on our right. This subject is a preparation for the future study of the five sciences it encompasses.

Containing fundamental portions of chemistry, physics, biology, physiology, and aeronautics, General Science not only enables the student to decide which major laboratory science he would prefer to take in the future, but it also presents a clear explanation of his surroundings to him.

Not posed — just test day.

As we proceed on our journey through Science Hall we enter the physics lab. in which answers to the how and why of many things around us are found.

The important topics studied in the physics classes throughout the year are: Mechanics, heat, electricity, sound, and light.

Both the practical and theoretical sides are emphasized in an endeavor to instill in the students a knowledge of the intricacies of fundamental physics.

Closely akin to Home Economics is the study of physiology. The course, open to all students, affords a review of the subjects of nursing, dietetics, home economics, and various other biological slants.

Through physiology the student gains a thorough learning of health applications in daily life.

This subject is not only an excellent preparation for students contemplating a medical career, but it is valuable to anyone, as it teaches the everyday care of the body.

As the family is the basis of society, the Home conomics' section of our Hall of Science is probly the most essential. Efficiency is the key note to success in any walk of life. Therefore, the wealth of experience, acquired in the Home Economics classes, is of paramount importance for future Americans.

Many of us think "cooking class" and Home Economics are synonymous. To the contrary, besides receiving nutritional knowledge, Home Economics girls are offered lectures and laboratory work in clothing, good grooming, family relationships, cosmetology, child care and home nursing.

Drawing Room

Leaving the Observatory we come to the Drawing Room of "the house." Here, after four years in the Drafting and Surveying Department, the engineering student is adequately prepared either to apply his talent in a drafting office or to continue his studies in college.

The freshman course is comprised of descriptive geometry, orthographic projection, surface development, and the various types of perspective.

Machine detail, gearing and cam design, together with the use of the slide-rule is taught to sophomores.

With this background, the junior draftsman details and assembles a project of some proportions—perhaps an aeroplane, an automobile motor and chasis, or various types of internal and external combustion motors. This year the juniors are occupied with a double-action, direct drive, steam powered, water-pump. Superior efficiency and power together with economy, makes steam power a much more interesting study than internal combustion.

Civil engineering is studied by the senior draftsman. Plates were made, this year of a variety of properties, in and near Toledo. Besides this, a number of profile and differential leveling courses were made. Several problems were completed in the computation of areas by the ingenious method of latitudes and double meridian distances.

Does any other high school in the country offer advantages to an engineering student comparable to those which are available here at Central Catholic High School?

The Secretarial Offices

Speed demons at work.

Here, in one of the most important rooms of "the house", we find workers who intend to take over secretarial responsibilities in later life.

A complete training program is offered to those interested in obtaining positions in the commercial field. Courses in bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, and office practice round out this program.

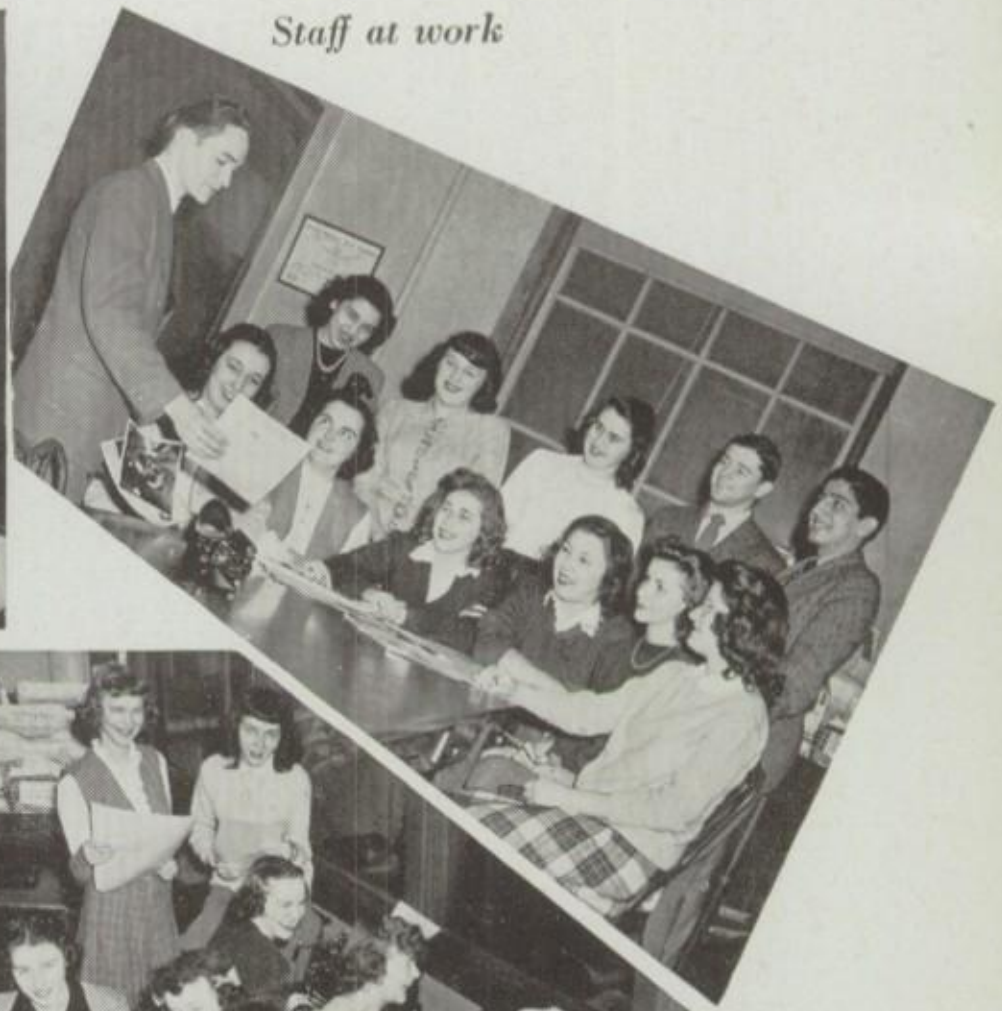
Staff at work



The Workroom of the house is the Centric office, for here many busy workers print the various projects of the school into one great blueprint.

The force of this workshop is the members of the Journalism Classes. They publish and finance the Centric, a bi-weekly newspaper. Their main purpose is to present the news of the classrooms and that of the extra curricular activities.

Their aim has been to enhance the reputation of the school by acquiring honors accorded school papers. In twenty-five years of publication the Centric has held its own with other school papers by capturing the "All-Catholic" and "All-American" ratings.

The Senior "Laborers" began their work four years ago, when in the auditorium on their very first day, Father Harrington asked the Class of '45 to rise. At this time they gleaned that they were to be the twenty-fifth graduating class of Central. They also learned that they would be the first class to complete four years with the new Principal, Rev. J. L. Harrington. For this reason he looked on them as his special proteges.

With this in mind, they began their years of apprenticeship at Central, determined to achieve an outstanding record.

Now, as seniors, they can look back at their record, confident that they have fulfilled his expectations.

The seniors wish to express their gratitude to an excellent faculty for the guidance they received and, on leaving Central, they promise with God's help to do their best to bring honor to their Alma Mater.

With a year of labor behind them as novices, the sophomores began their second year as apprentices last September, "old hands" at dealing with the affairs of "the house". Quickly setting to work, they placed several members of their class on the varsity football and basketball teams and dominated the lightweight grid team which placed second in the city league.

A large number of their class obtained positions on the honor roll for the year. Under the leadership of their four capable officers they cooperated in the school's numerous activities, helping to bring them to a successful conclusion.

On September 8, 1944, a record breaking number of novices began their career as "apprentice laborers" in "the house". Quickly accustoming themselves to their unfamiliar surroundings these 654 freshmen proved their ability by eagerly casting themselves into the activities of the school.

These lads and lassies also displayed their more serious side by placing high on the honor roll in every marking period. These Baby Irish gave evidence that they will be heard from in future years in athletics by placing second in city league basketball competition.

The Little Theater

In this section of "the house", the Little Theater, the Senior Class play, and the Musical Comedy hold sway.

This year under the supervision of Mr. Vincent Klein, director, and Sr. Mary Patricia, O.S.U., moderator, "What A Life," a comedy in three acts, played for four nights to capacity audiences.

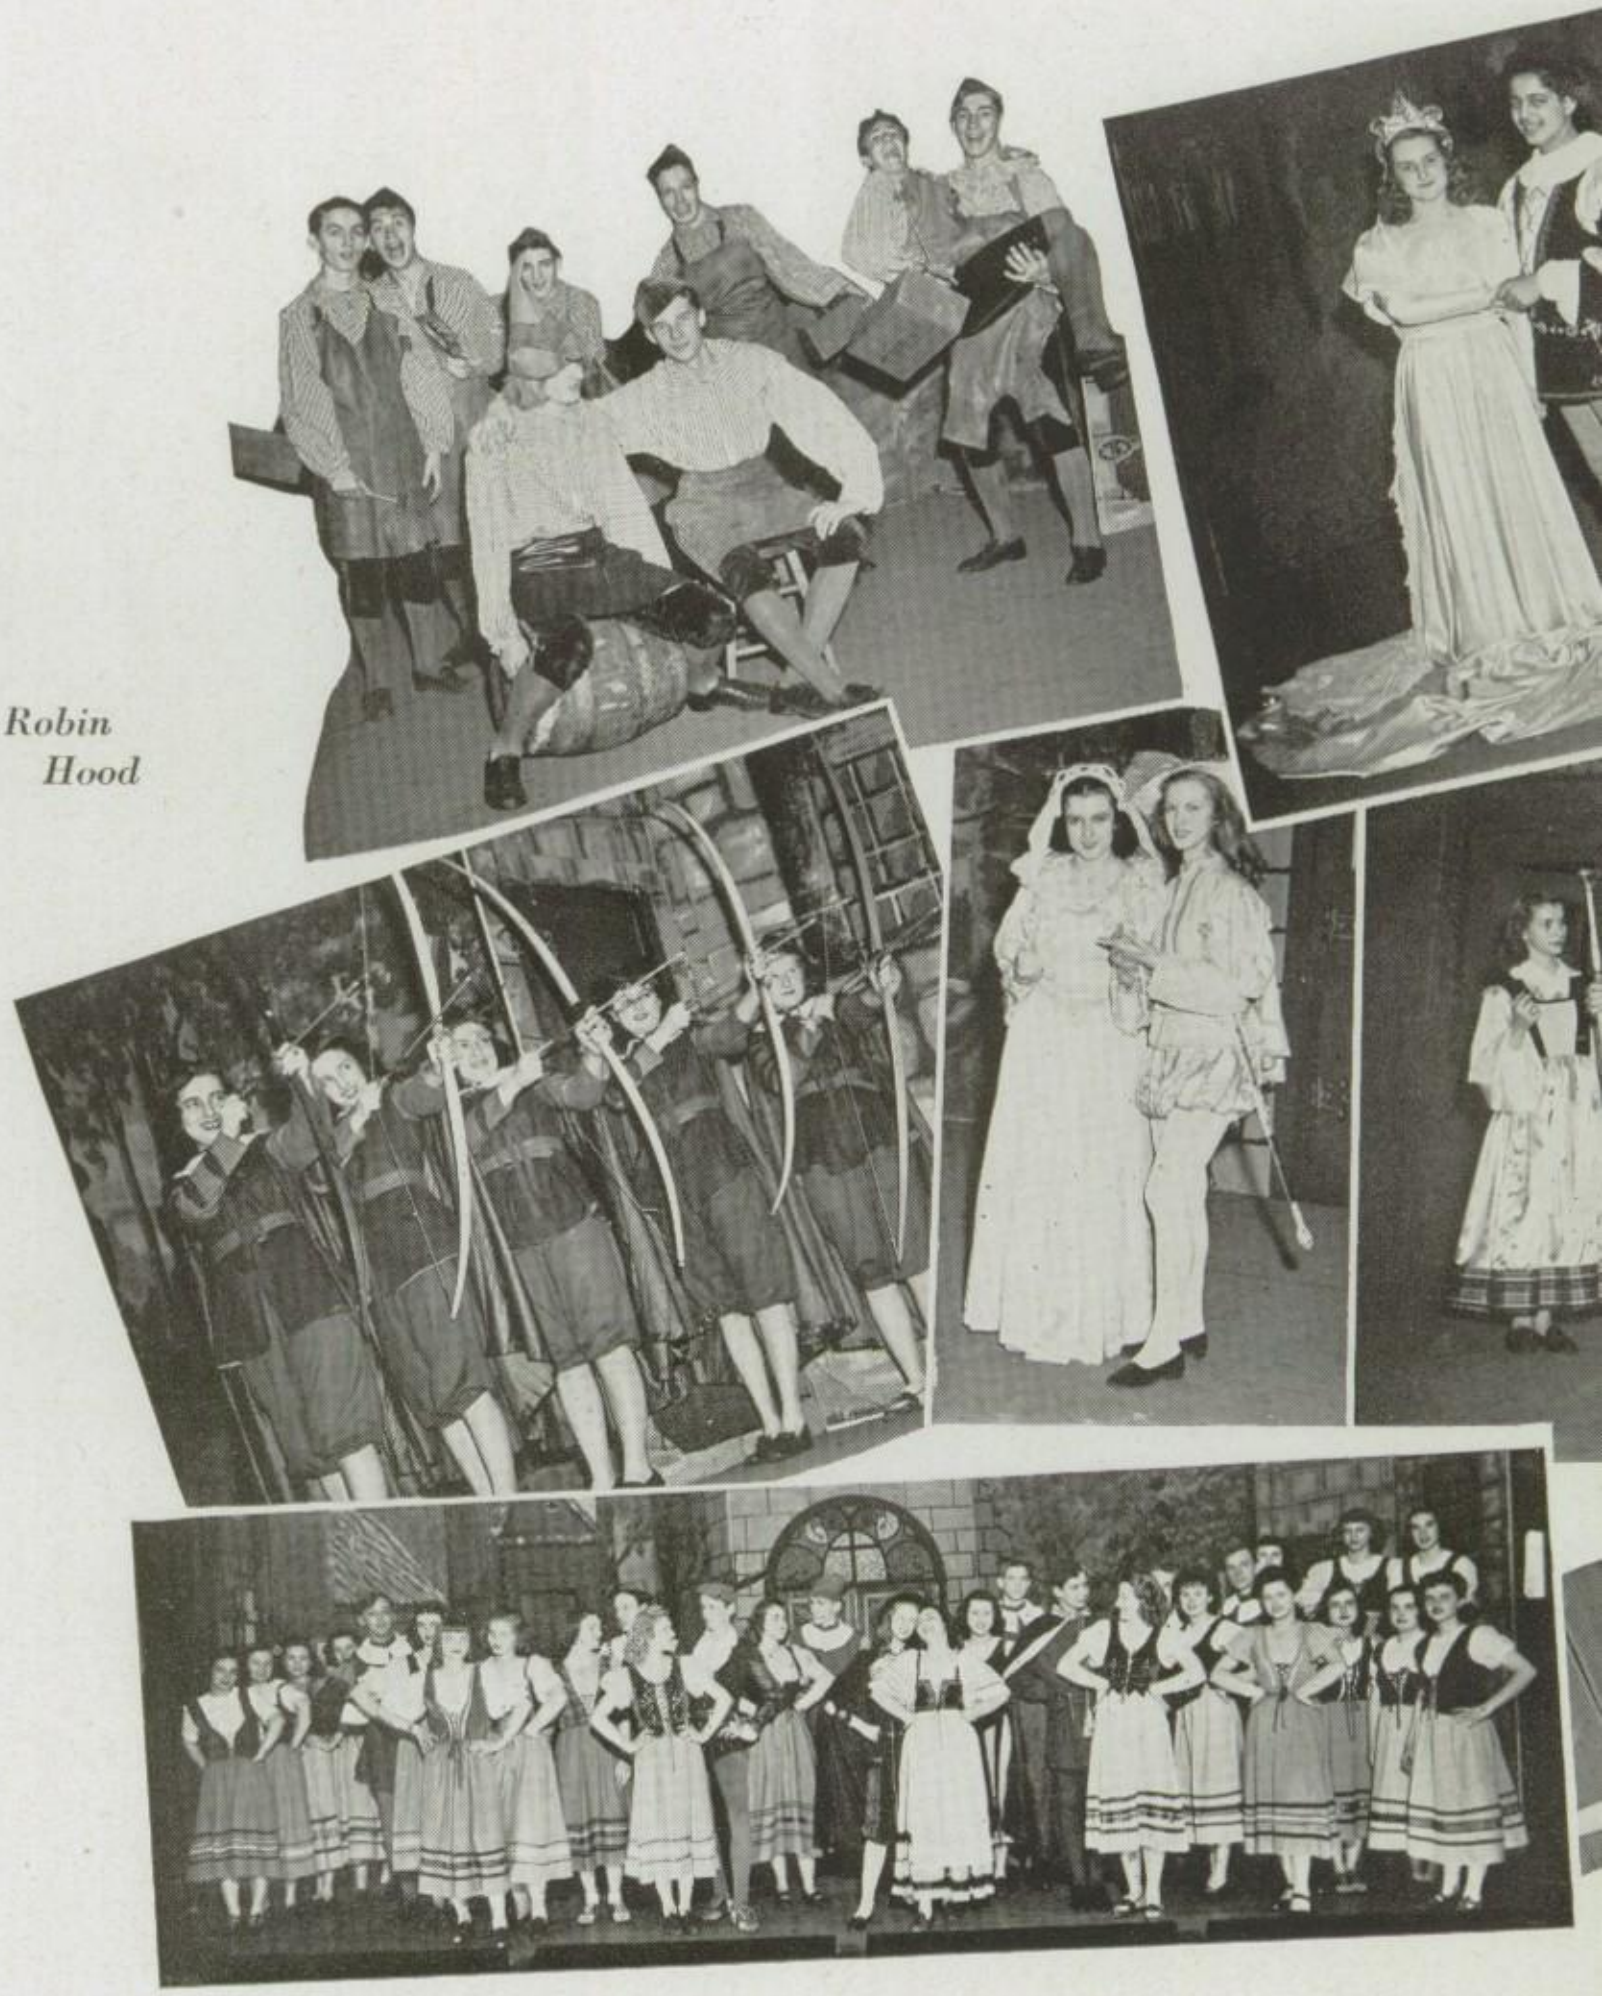
"What a Life"

Top: 1. "Here are the girls' reports, Mr. Bradley." 2. "Wait till my brother hears about this." 3. Miss Eggleston checks on the students. 4. "And the sales go up."

Middle: 1. "George Bigelow, obviously the school shiek." 2. "Mrs. Aldrich, Henry really needs an art course." 3. Curtain, — one minute.

Bottom: Make-up artists putting on the war paint.

Robin Hood



The Musical Comedy, "Robin Hood," was presented by the Glee Club and Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Joseph Sainton and Sister M. Cecelia, O.S.F., director and moderator, respectively.

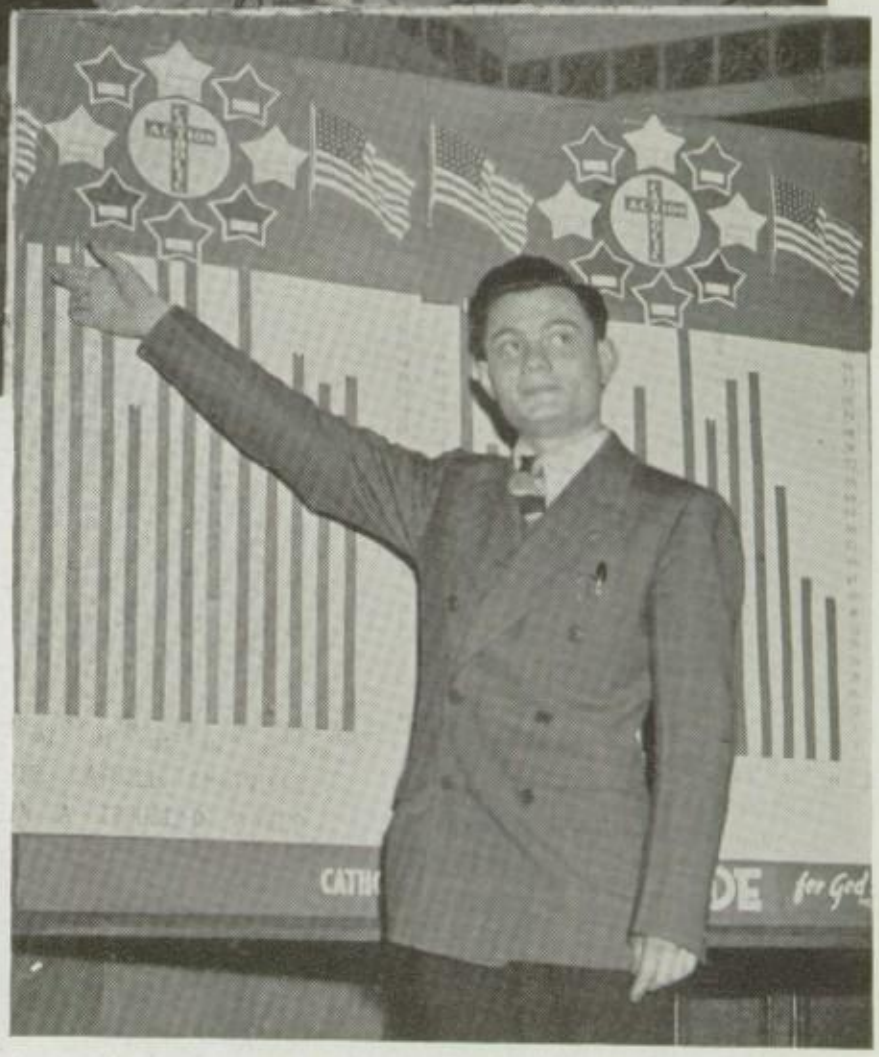
Top: 1. "We tinkers frolic and we frisk." 2. "For Marian shall be my bride." 3. "We're brave as lions." 4. "Come we milkmaids o'er the lea."

Middle: 1. Robin's Bold Archers. 2. "When a maiden weds . . ." 3. "But where is my lovely Annabel?" 4. "Ah, tis my maid Marian." 5. "How many tickets, please?"

Bottom: 1. "A Morris dance; let us dance; let us dance." 2. House lights up. 3. "I'll sing you a song of brown October ale."

The Committee "listens in."

The Executive Office



The Chronicle Winner,
William Campbell

All roads may lead to Rome, but at Central all eyes turn to the executive room of "the house". We peer through the keyhole to perceive the bee-like activity of the Student Council. Under the able supervision of the Rev. Joseph D. Shenk and Sister M. Eventia, S.N.D., the officers—Bob Etzel, president; Jack Murnen, vice-president; Gerry Longmore, secretary; and Pat Ryan, treasurer—endeavor to lead their classmates through a successful year of extra-curricular activities.

The personnel of the executive committee is composed of the four Student Council officers, the senior class officers, the underclass presidents, and the officers in charge of activities, traffic, and publicity. The general assembly includes all class officers, representatives from each conference room, and honorary members.

The Student Council has the unique purpose of upholding ideals of Central by conducting programs for the betterment of school life. Taking in stride the social events of the year, the Student Council also concerns itself with the improvement of the students' intellectual lives.

The social program this year included several dances, a skating party, the annual boat trip, Tag Week, and Color Day. Courtesy Week and the Study Campaign were a part of the cultural program.

Included in its undertakings are the War Chest drive and the Catholic Chronicle Campaign.

The Rumpus Room

The Supervisors

Football Coach

Supervising the activities of the "rumpus room", Mr. Patrick McCarty has, in his two years at Central, proved his ability as a great football coach and a true friend of the students and players. This year he, together with the crack football squad he formed, presented the school with its first victories over Waite High.

Mr. McCarty

Our hats are off to Pat for his fine work. We extend a sincere wish that he may remain at Central as Director of Athletics for many years to come.

Basketball Coach

Mr. Harold Mouch in his first year as Central's head basketball and baseball coach gave evidence to the school that there need be no fear for Central's future in these sports. During this period he developed two teams whose work showed they had that spirit of which the school may well be proud.

Mr. Mouch

In football, Mr. Mouch, a graduate of Central in '40 and later a star of the '43 Dayton team, produced one of the finest backfields in the city.

Lightweight Coaches

Hanging from the wall in the Athletic Office, is a portrait of that great man-builder, Knute Rockne. The coaches at Central try to follow Rockne's standards to build the sportsmen of this school. Of these coaches, Father Fuqua sets the closest paraliei to Rocknean principles.

Rev. J. J. Fuqua

Coaching the lightweight squad is one of the toughest assignments. Considering this, and the fact that the lightweight squad landed second spot in the city football league, it is safe to say, Father Fuqua is a capable "builder of men."

Known to many Freshmen as a fine teacher, Father George P. Shugrue has also won the deep admiration of the football and basketball players.

Rev. G. P. Shrugrue

Teaming with Father John J. Fuqua, Father Shugrue did wonders with the lightweight football team. The boys worked hard and were really proud to hear him say at the end of the season, "Well done, fellows."

Besides his amazing football coaching talents, Father turned out a fine freshman basketball team which finished high in the city league standings.

Alfred McCarthy

Central's lightweight football team this year was led through a praiseworthy football season by "Irish" McCarthy. Though a newcomer on the Central coaching staff, "Irish" is well known to students and fans through the many laurels which he won under the scarlet and gray colors during the football seasons of 1928 and '29. In his last year, he was unanimous choice for all-city quarterback.

"Irish" is indeed a valuable addition to our coaching staff. We are certain that he and his teams will bring glory to Central in future years.

Dr. Joseph A. Muenzer

Dr. Joseph A. Muenzer has, during the past year, proved his ability both as a friend of Central and as a capable physician.

Following the Libbey game, a badly injured team presented itself to "Doc" for "patching up". The results of his careful treatments were shown the following week in the first defeat Waite received at the hands of Central.

Don Reilly

Successfully leading the Irish track team in its first concentrated year of the sport was Coach Don Reilly, the most recent addition to Central's coaching staff. Don, a familiar figure to Centralites through his exploits on the gridiron and cinder paths at DeVilbiss, has, since his arrival at Central, developed numerous outstanding performers and made the team a powerful factor in the league race. We, of the student body, extend a sincere welcome to Don and wish him great success in his coaching career.

The Waite Game

Twelve thousand spectators sat in awed silence while the huge clock on the scoreboard slowly ticked off the remaining seconds of the game, for they realized that below them, on the field, history was being made. Suddenly the referee's gun went off and several thousand madly cheering fans poured onto the playing field. Yes, the "jinx" had finally been broken; the fighting Irish of Central Catholic had, after fourteen years of determined but fruitless attempts, beaten the Waite High Indians in football.

No flukey victory was this, either, as the final score of 28 to 12 indicates. The Irish of '45 indeed lived up to the tradition of all Central teams, that is, that each team do just a little better than the team of the preceding year. Central entered the game with the "odds down", for the squad was sadly crippled. Starting as predicted the Indians surged to a 6-0 lead in the first quarter. In the second quarter, however, the fighting spirit of the Cherry Street lads brought them roaring back into the ball game. A snappy Molnar to Pinciotti pass, a perfect conversion by Juhasz and the Irish were in front never to relinquish the lead. In the second half the team continued into steamroller offensive as Pinciotti scored twice and Bayer once. "Jupe" Juhasz completed a perfect evening with three rifle conversion attempts. Thus, Central Catholic swept on to its first football victory over Waite High. However, in these lines cannot be told the story of the linesmen, of their firm determination and fighting spirit, of the undying faithfulness of the thousands of alumni and fans. To these unsung heroes much of the credit for the victory must go.

In the second game of the year with Waite, Central again started slowly, spotting the Indians' 14 points. With Delp and Molnar contributing standout performances the team repeated its previous victory by a 34 to 21 score.

Tributes

F. Flynn

To A Gallant Leader

A familiar sight to all Centralites is the "Irish" grin of Francis Flynn, Central's football captain for this year. However, a much different aspect of this fighting Irishman was given the opposing teams who usually viewed "Franny" from a prone position. Never outdone in fight and determination, "Franny" was, however, at all times a true sportsman. In many games this stalwart son of Central provided the necessary spark to bring the team to victory. Franny will be sorely missed next year by the team and the school. All wish him success in everything he attempts.

Tribute To A Sportsman

If an award were given at Central to a player for extraordinary valor and school spirit beyond human expectation, John Juhasz would, undoubtedly, receive it.

Jupe, knee joint twisted out of place in the 1943 football season, was told he'd have to wear leg braces in order to compete in '44. An ordinary player would have given up here, but not Jupe. Donning the leg braces before each game, Juhasz still proved one of the most accurate placement kickers in the city.

Field general of the Fighting Irish, Jupe led the team to pay dirt many times; then he'd go on to kick the extra marker.

In whatever occupation Jupe chooses, he'll be successful because he has the key to prosperity—perseverance.

J. Juhasz

Lightweight Team

After a successful season on the gridiron, the Freshman and Lightweight teams pause for a moment to pose for the cameraman before hanging up their football togs.

Cheerleaders

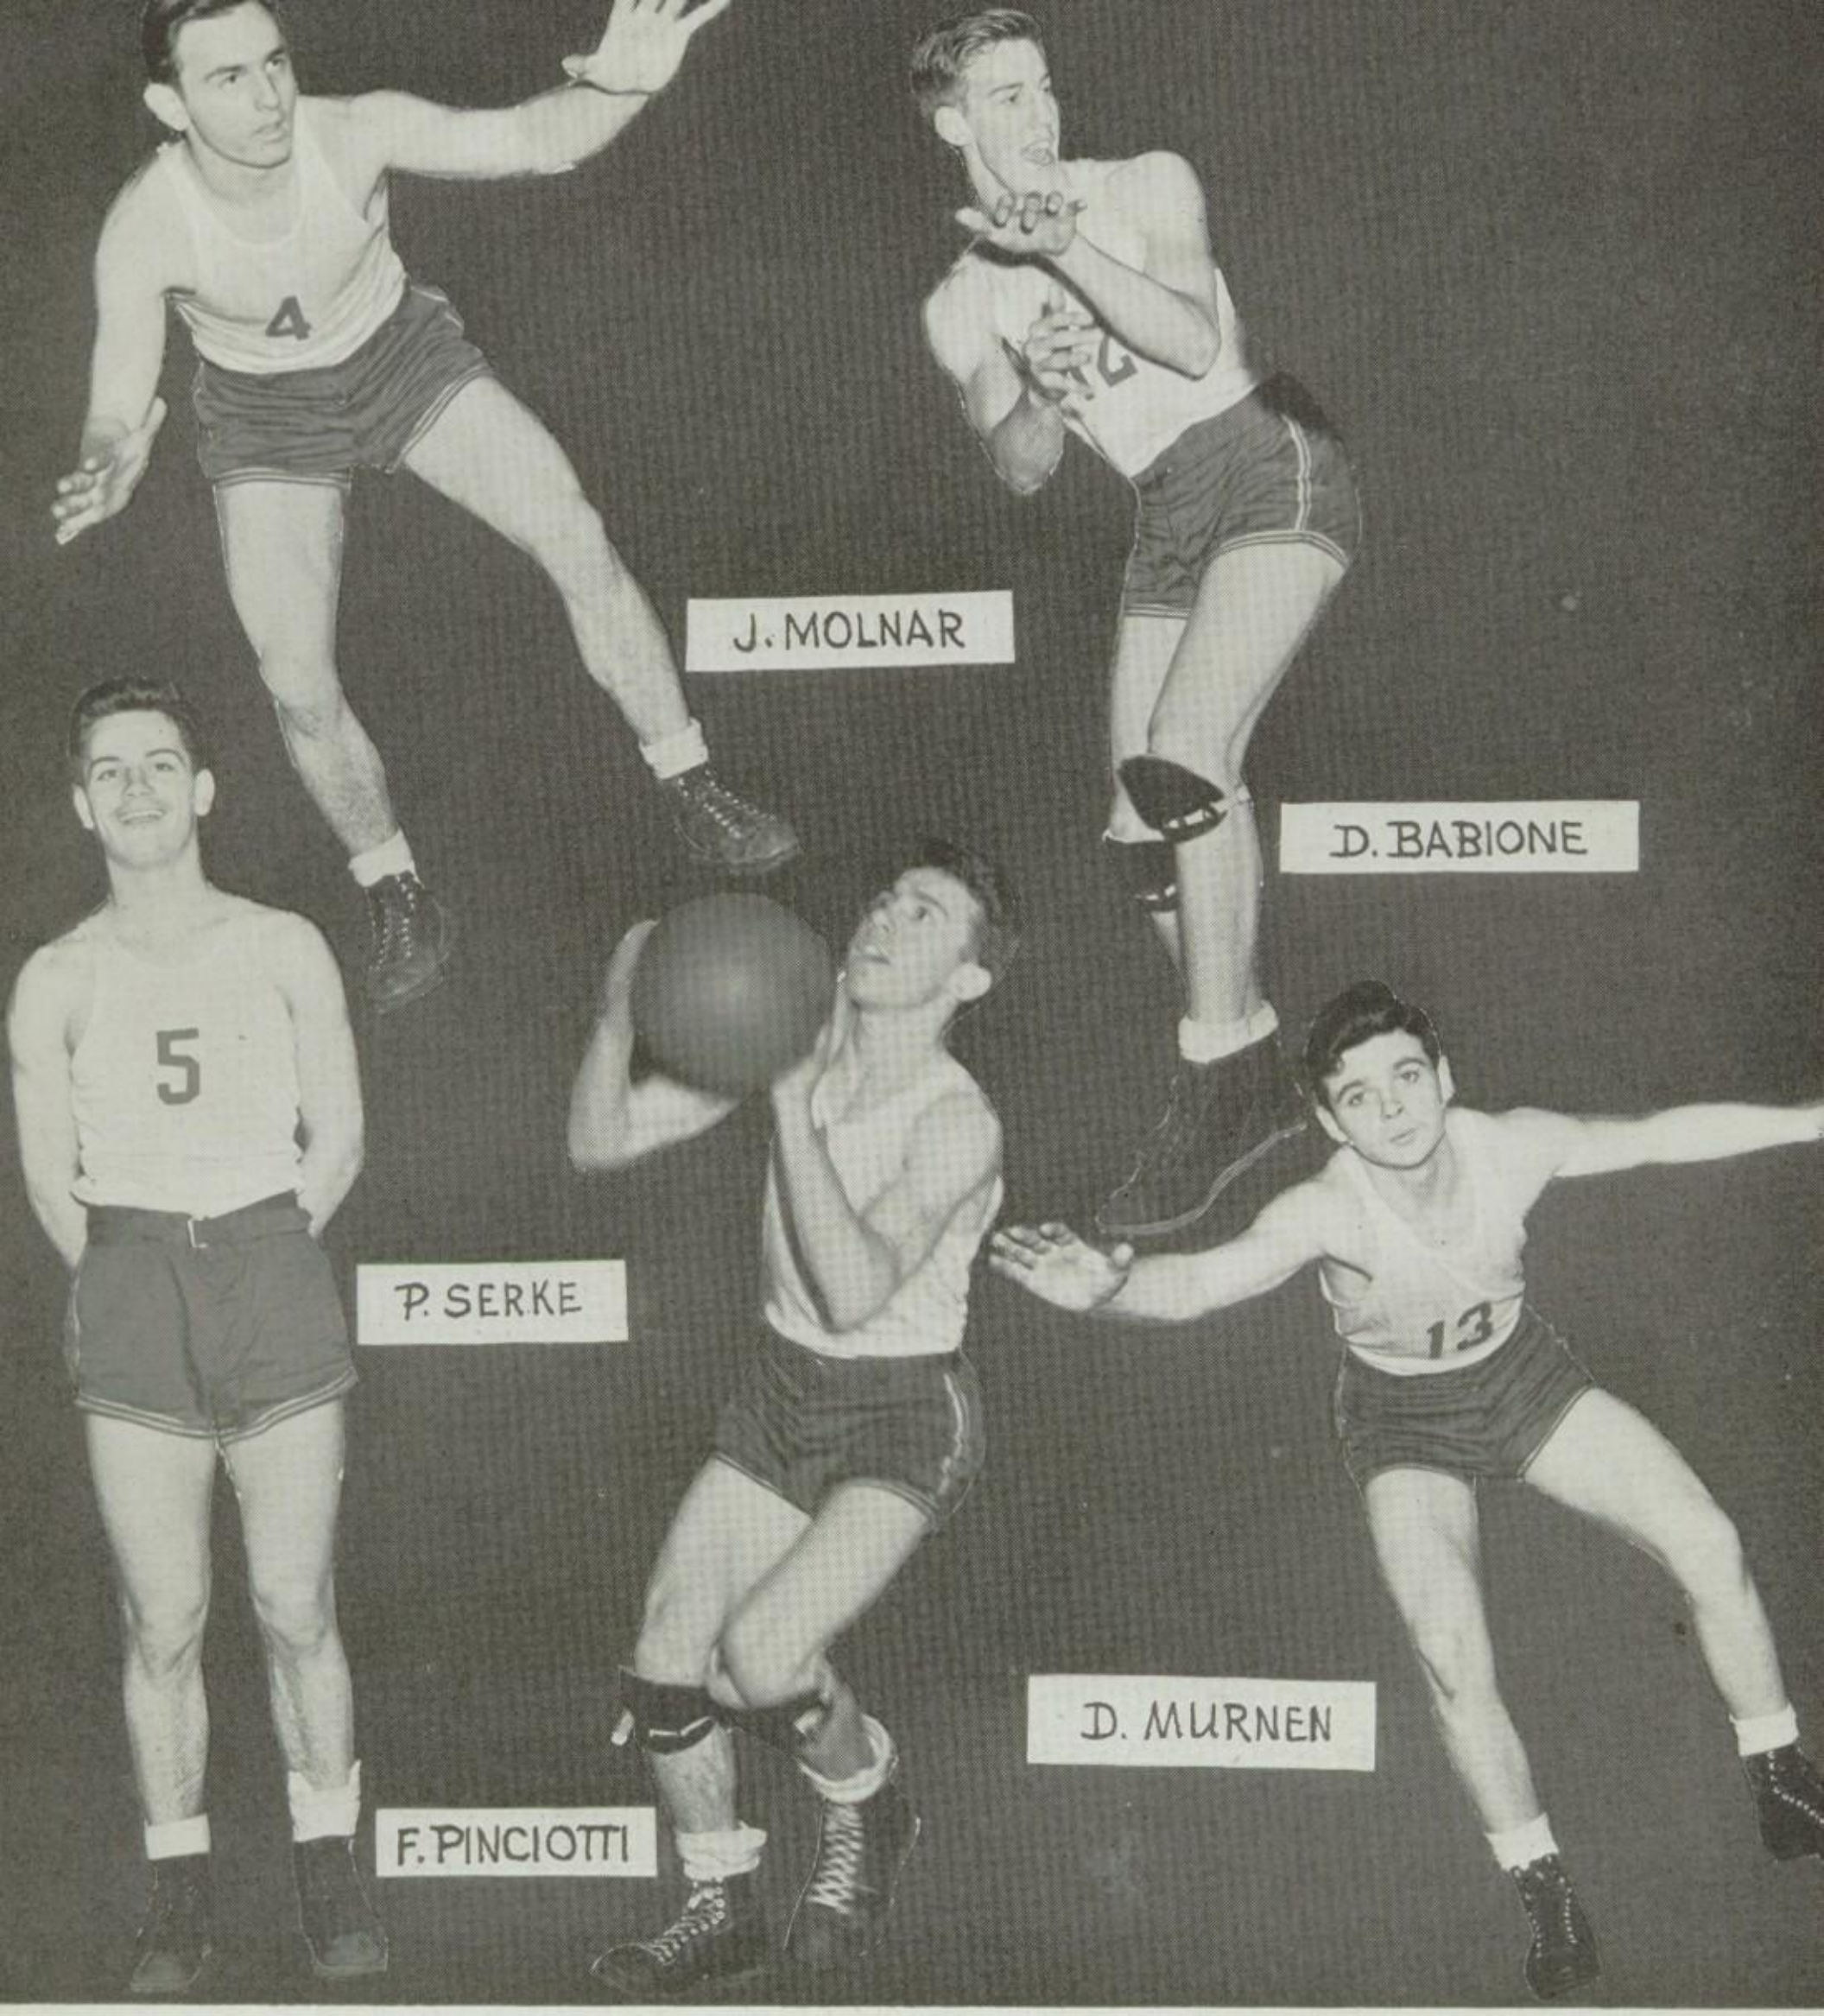
Co-ordinating the noise in the "rumpus room" were the cheerleaders, who were an important factor in many of Central's victories throughout the year. On many extremely cold evenings these boys and girls spiritedly ran through their routines on the gridiron so that the football team might have the support it deserved. Cheerfully giving up their spare time, they practiced after school in order that they might perform with clockwork precision. Our cheerleaders deserve the deep thanks of the entire student body.



The above players are members of the basketball squad of 1944-45, a team which will long be remembered by all who saw them in action. Through a long and hard season these boys displayed a fighting spirit unrivaled among Central teams. On numerous occasions, against great odds, they came through to present the school with victory, a victory which had previously been conceded to the opposition by all "experts". These gallant sons of Central deserve nothing but our highest admiration and deepest respect.

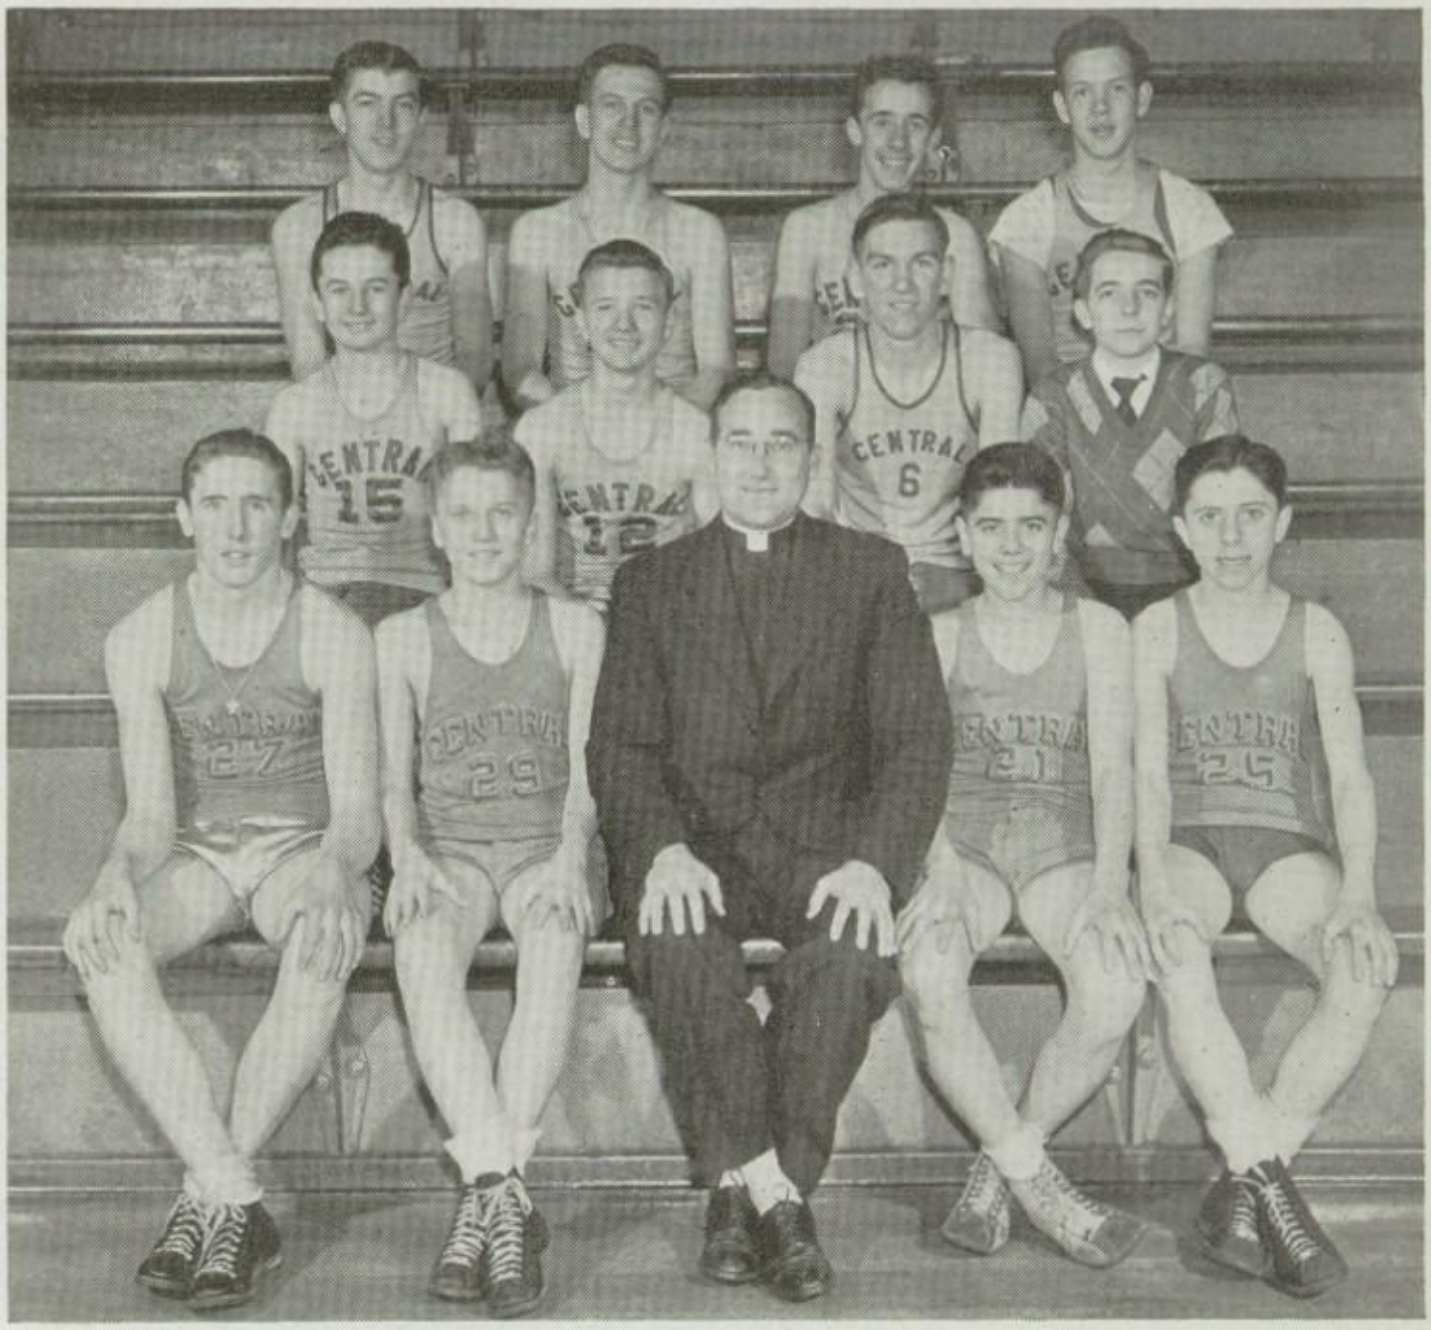
Lightweight Basketball

Under the capable direction of the Reverend John Fuqua the lightweight basketball team turned in a highly creditable season, finishing in a tie for first place in the city league. These boys who completed the season with the record books showing 18 wins and 3 losses, give great promise for next year's varsity. The Junior Irish selected forward Jack Murnen as their captain and most valuable player.

Freshman Basketball

The freshman basketball team this year lived up to the tradition of former freshman teams by finishing high in the city league with a 9 won and 3 lost record. This team, coached by the Reverend George Shugrue, also engaged in five non-league encounters, taking four and dropping one. As next year's lightweights, much is expected of these boys.



Top: P. Fleck, P. Grote, J. Williams, A. Bernhardt.
Middle: J. Garvin, J. Gilmore, A. Graybark, T. Langevin.
Bottom: J. McGurk, J. Oswald, Father Shugrue, N. Romano, Robert Regan.

Managers

D. Glennon, S. Feyes, J. Reifsnyder, J. Thornton, W. Kosydar, W. Koogan, and R. Reucher.

Helping to keep the ,'rumpus room" orderly were the managers of the athletic teams. Faithfully reporting every night, these lads performed the many unpleasant tasks required to maintain the various teams. When the going was tough, with a cheerful remark and a little service, they boosted the morale of the players and enabled them to obtain many victories for Central. The managers truly deserve the praise of the entire student body.

Track Team

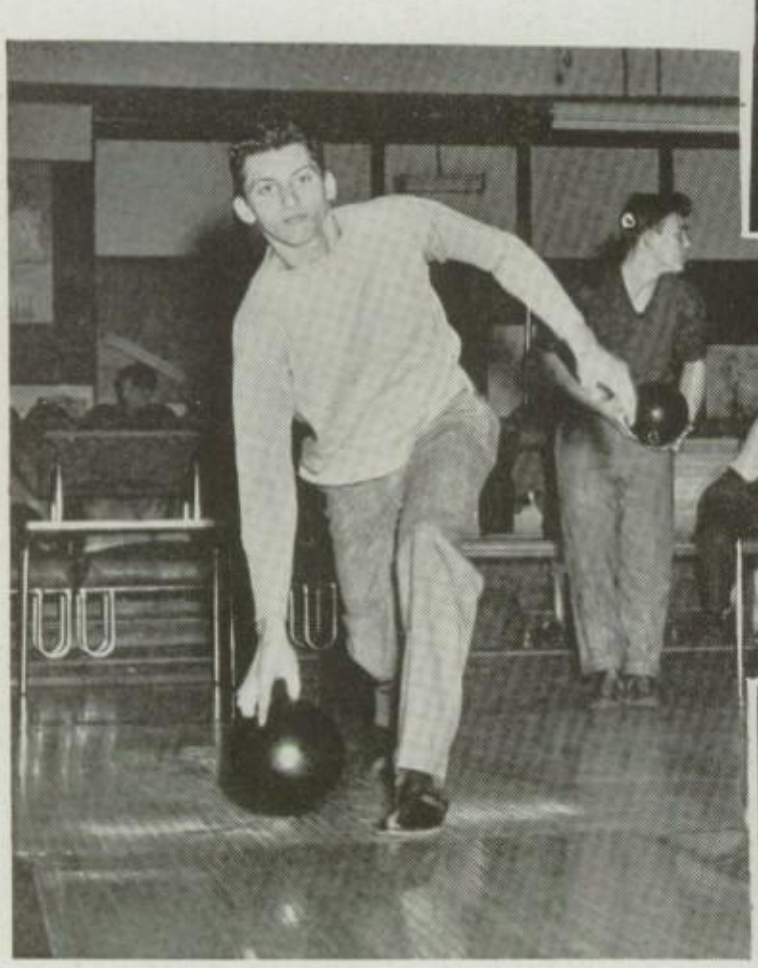
Central's track team serves a double purpose this year; to bring honor and glory to its Alma Mater and to serve as a criterian for future teams. Although a track team is still relatively new to Central, our boys are showing skill and determination which give us high hopese of turning out many championship teams in years to come.

Bowling

"Who's going to set pins?"



"Bowl 'em over"

The "eleventh" frame

Representing Central well in the past year were the American and National League bowling teams. Coached by Father Schmit, both of Central's bowling entries have had satisfactory seasons. Frank Beakas, captain of the two teams for 1945, was consistently the high scorer.

Golf Team

Fr. Stahl, P. Hood, D. Harms, J. Gasiorowski, G. Bellner, W. Holmes, R. Holmes, F. Beakas, F. Daly, W. Gerkin.

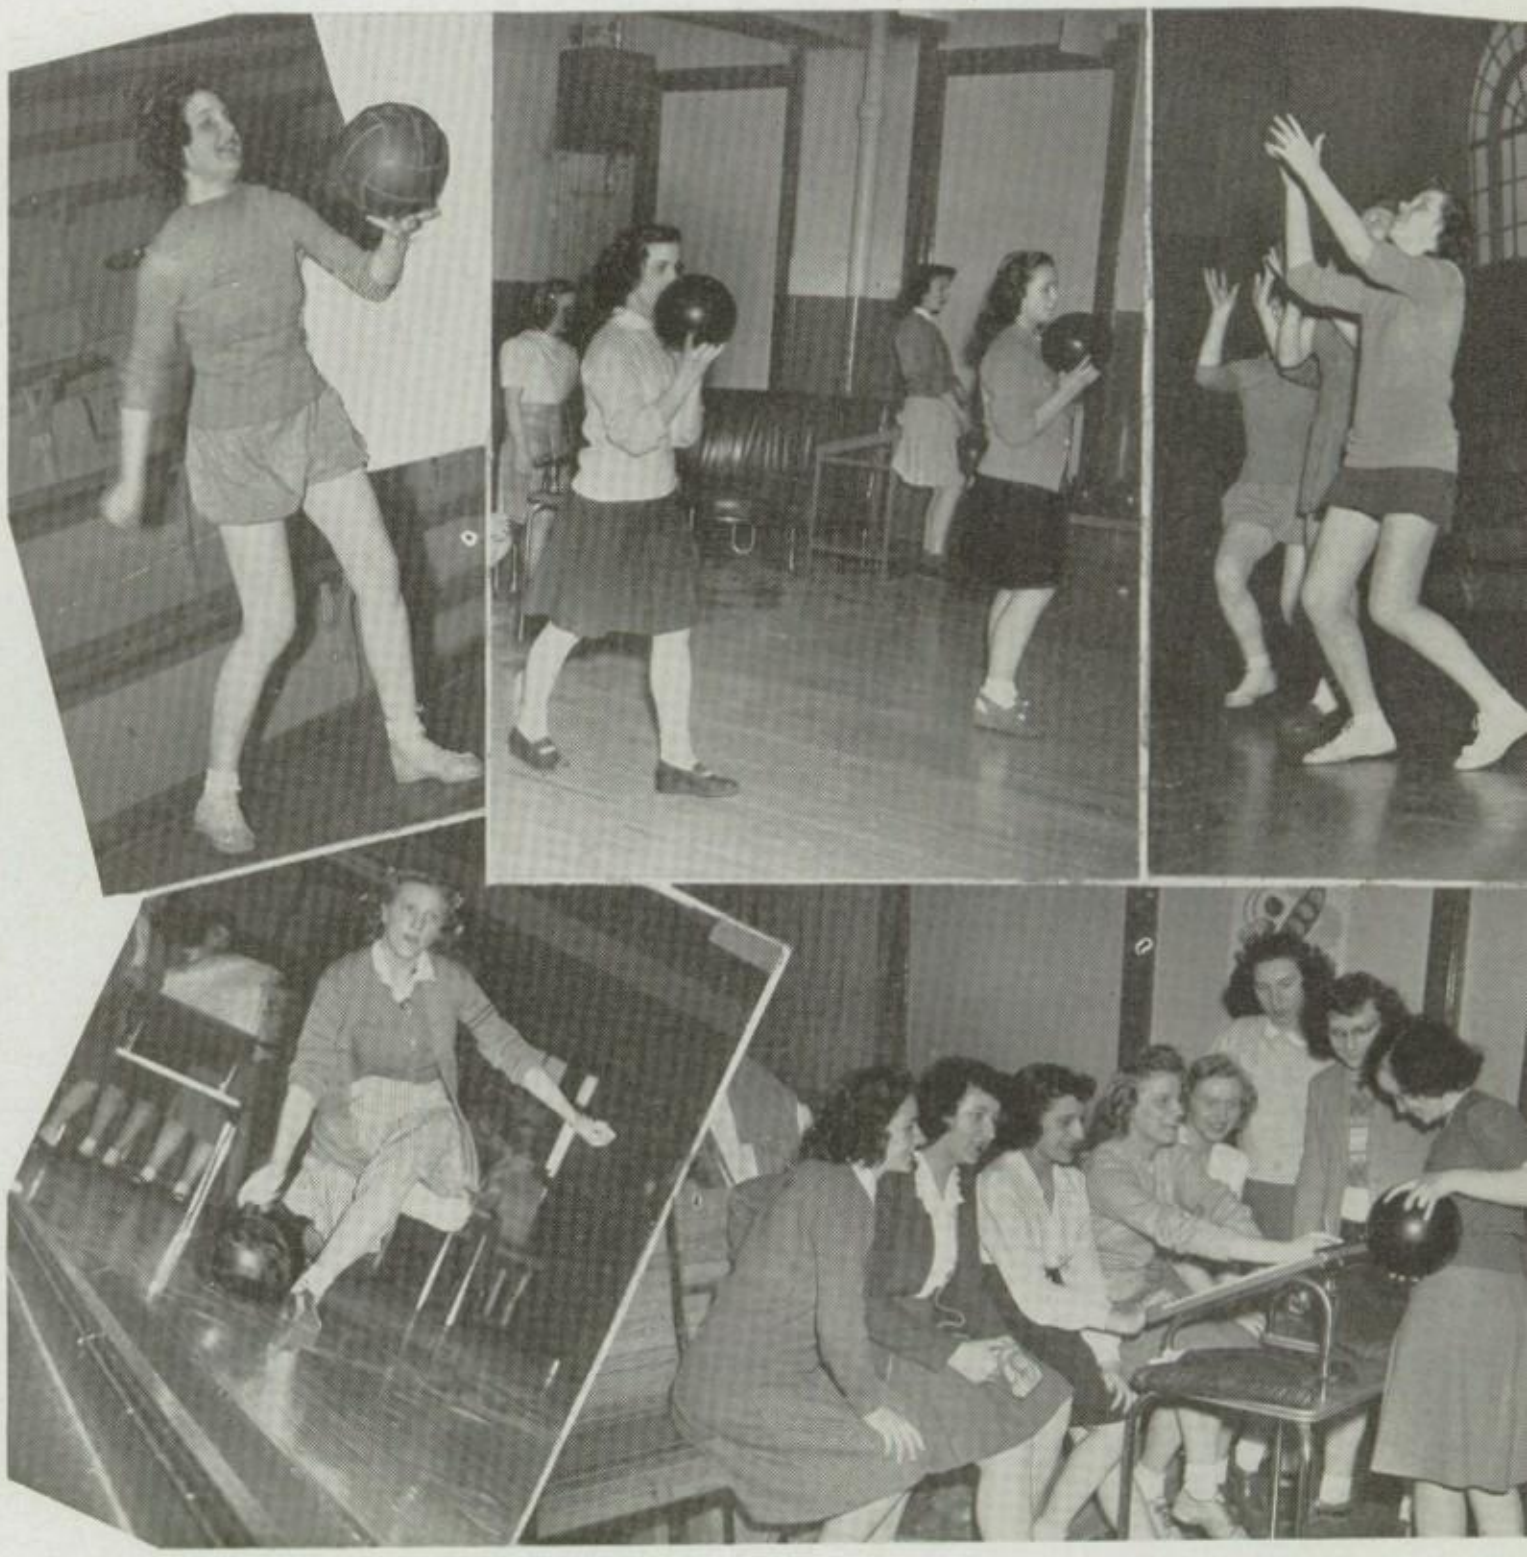
An impressive golf record was turned in this year by Central's links team. Under the supervision of Father Stahl, the sixsome turned in such scores as a 23 to 1 drubbing over Waite High and 14 to 10 triumph annexed from Libbey's Cowboys.

Baseball Team

Top row: H. Mouck, R. Zakrzewski, C. Fleig, T. Cole, J. Grote, J. Juhasz, J. Eggl, R. Bayer, N. Lewandowski, J. Delp, R. Schmenk.

Bottom row: J. Thornton, C. Bogusz, C. Bialorucki, R. Murnen, G. Pinciotti, J. Murnen, F. Pinciotti, J. Wells, R. Dykas.

Another comparative new-comer to Central's athletic field is baseball. However, the "fighting Irish" seem to feel right at home on the diamond and have really shown themselves tough competition to all league on-comers. Rather than write flowery phrases praising these boys for their splendid work, we merely say "Thanks, fellows. We hope you'll find in this statement the admiration which the student body has for you."



The girls, also, have their

An extensive physical program has been successfully carried out through the combined efforts of Miss Frances Dunigan and the officers of the Girls' Athletic League.

The G.A.L. scrapbook of the year's activities was kept up to date by Joan Hettle, Rosemary Langendefer, and Joan La Presto.

Numberless energetic girls competed in the bowling league which held weekly meetings on Thursday at the Auditorium. After completing this year's round of games the "Zombies" and the "Gutter-snipers" are in first and second place, respectively. The Zombies are second time winners.

Among indoor activities the gym classes participated in dart games, ping pong, hit pin, shuffleboard, basketball, volleyball, and dancing. Sports held outside on the football field included archery and speedball.

Inter-mural basketball games between conference room sport enthusiast were held throughout the year.

At the midyear presentation of letters, seven members were awarded letters and seven received cheverons.

The Calendar

September:

This school year
Got under way
With September eighth
As Freshman Day.

October:

Although it took us
Thirteen years,
We find the Indians
Now in tears.

November:

All around the building,
Scarlet and Gray
Were proudly displayed
On Color Day.

December:

Parents and teachers
Had their meeting
Then came time for
Christmas greeting.

January:

Irene and Lee
Co-editors were named.
To make this Centripetal
The BEST, they aimed.

Remember When?

Just a few years back no football game or other high school event was complete without special Chartered Coaches to take you there and bring you back.

Now all this equipment is doing the more important job of providing essential transportation for fighters on the home front in the battle of production.

But some day this will all be over and when that happy time comes you'll find newer and finer Chartered Coaches ready to serve you on these special occasions.

February:
"What A Life"
Our Senior Play
Made those who saw it
Light and gay.

March:
Retreat was held at Central,
The first three days of Lent,
Each and every Centralite,
In prayer and silence spent.

The Calendar

April:
"Robin Hood" was
Declared best of all
By throngs of spectators
Who filled the hall.

May:
Our Lady was crowned
As Queen of May
On a beautiful
Convocation Day.

June:
The school year is done
A class now departs
But sweet memories remain
Ever dear to our hearts.

The Den

IRENE GRABARSKI

LEE MARA

For twenty-five years each senior class has labored in "the den" to produce an annual in which is recorded all the activities which have taken place in "the house" during their last year at Central.

This year the seniors have, in editing the Silver Jubilee Issue of the Centripetal, attempted to produce a publication which will enable both faculty and students happily to relive the events of the past year
